Combine the wonder and whimsy of a classic footbridge with the learning opportunities of a developmental play space and you have the Triple Steps Bridge by Nature of Early Play. This bridge is a training ground for toddlers and young children alike as they practice walking up and down steps while learning to balance themselves. This structure features picket rails which give off a classic vibe of a wood bridge. Place it in a park or playground or even your backyard. The Triple Stepper Bridge is a balance apparatus expertly designed to help toddlers hone motor skills in a safe, healthy way, and its sturdy, movable frame makes it appropriate for both green spaces and playrooms. The Triple Steps Bridge is CSPC, IPEMA, ASTM, and CSA safety certified, made of 100% recycled structural plastic, and equipped with stainless steel hardware.
