Bring the beautiful sights and sounds of local and migrating birds to your area with this Bird Feeder by Nature of Early Play. This feeder is made from recycled plastic, so it is environmentally conscious while providing for the surrounding ecosystem. Its gravity-fed design does not require frequent refilling, and is compatible with any kind of birdseed. The clear window in the front shows how much seed is remaining giving you a heads up of when you will need to refill it, and the hinged top easily opens to make refills effortless. And since the feeder is made from recycled plastic materials, it is sure to help wild animals in more ways than one. It can be ordered with an optional post for installing it in-ground (and out of the reach of pesky squirrels). This can be a fun activity or responsibility to teach your kids about the ecosystem and wildlife.
