The Garden Arbor with Modbox Planters by Nature of Early Play is a complete garden sanctuary that can be added to any outdoor location. The canopy provides shelter from the sun during all but the midday hours, and can be completed with a covering of foliage or ivy for even more shade. This structure is perfect for gathering kids to relax under the shade, play, act out a play or learn more about horticulture. The canopy has two bench seats below it, so that a number of people can relax and enjoy each other's company. This model even has a pair of Modbox planters flanking the arbor on both sides, which allow you to personalize and beautify it with any type of flowers that you see fit. This can be a good opportunity to teach kids the responsibility of caring for plants.
