The Triple Paint Panel is a marvelous art studio for young children to enjoy outdoors or indoors. It consists of three Paint Panels which can be joined together in several different configurations. Each panel is double-sided, offering six separate panels for young painters to work with. Of course, since the panels are clear, what is painted on one side is visible on the other. This can create some truly unique works of art where multiple children's art blends together while still being unique when viewed from either side. It can be installed outdoors with an in-ground mount, keeping all of the mess outside.
