The Recycled Hilltop Challenge is a simple activity which is great for experienced or inexperienced dog trainers and trainees. This two-sided incline provides an easy obstacle for dogs to climb up and then back down. They will need little instruction on how to complete it, but with some practice they will be able to run the ramps at full speed. Both sides have horizontal boards to help give some traction and prevent the dogs from slipping. The entire structure is made from recycled plastic planks, which amounts to a huge environmental benefit from all the new plastic that doesn't have to be made and old plastic that doesn't get sent to a landfill.
