Kids love playing in the water, whether it's at the beach, the pool, or even the bathtub. Now you can bring water games right to your own play area with this Single Water Trough. This Brilliant water table attaches to your garden hose so that you can control how quickly the water flows. It moves past the three dams, to the end of the trough. There it drains into the bottom area, where you can set up a container to collect it. This water can then be re-used to teach the children an early lesson about water conservation. Kids will love playing with boats, buckets, and rubber duckies in the Single Water Trough.
