The Spout and Splash is a great outdoor structure that includes both a Cleanup Station pump and a Nature Bowl basin. This way, Children can control how much water goes into the basin by using the pump, and then drain the basin using the rubber stopper at the bottom of it. There is a container beneath the water pump which is easy to refill whenever needed. The Nature Bowl is set at an ideal height so that young children can easily reach and play in it while an adult operates the water pump. It is available with in-ground or portable mounting.
