This 32 inch Classroom Table by Nature of Early Play is a perfect space for children to gather and eat their snacks or lunches. It even makes a great spot for outdoor classroom activities. The 32-inch length of the table makes it large enough for up to four children to sit comfortably and still have enough room for their activities without bumping into each other. The 100% recycled plastic structural materials are what makes this table stand out, making it an environmentally conscious, yet functional item. These tables are lightweight, which makes them easily portable. Best of all this table can be used outdoors or indoors. They are durable, which means that they can be left outside. They are easy to clean, which is almost essential for children. And of course, they are environmentally friendly. Choose a size that is best for your kids with height-sizes going up to 24-inches, ideal for elementary school children.
