Sow seeds of learning and instill a lifelong love of gardening via the Green Thumb Planter Box. Kids can tend to this pint-sized garden box and marvel at the wonders of nature. The simple row design will help kids grapple with planning and organization, all while they enjoy the fun and beauty of making seeds flourish into flowers. They'll learn to plant, water, and weed their way to the diverse and thriving miniature garden of their dreams. The Green Thumb Garden Box also makes an excellent educational tool for teachers hoping to give lessons on environmentalism, sustainability, biology, and food safety. Through gardening, kids will adopt valuable life skills and gain a more significant connection to the world around them. The Green Thumb Planter Box comes in either conditioned wood or recycled plastic and metal and boasts heavy-duty, weather-resistant hardware, so kids can get right out there and get their hands dirty at the start of spring.
