Take shelter in the Green Thumb Potting Shed by Big Toys, where children of preschool age can simultaneously be in a world of magic and fairy princesses and the green world of gardening. Perfectly sized to scale for beginning gardeners, the Potting Shed has enough room for multiple children to get in and tend to their new plants, whether flowers, herbs, or vegetables. This durable structure has the look of an inviting, classical cabin, with an arched roof, handsome trim, floral cutouts, and sweet details like the yellow and green button knobs on the sides and roof. Whether you'd rather a shed made from constructed wood or one of metal and plastic, the Green Thumb Potting Shed can weather all standard variations between sun and showers during the growing season. It's a safe place for children to grow by growing things, and there's plenty to do within. There are two planting boxes and a shelf where more plants can be placed as well. The possibilities are as endless as your kids' horticultural imaginations.
