Keep patrons safe and signal that you mean business with our “Do Not Enter” sign. This well-constructed and eye-catching panel is mounted on a portable base that can be posted to different places on your path or recreation space. Move it indoors once a renovation project is over and increase the longevity of your sign. The “Do Not Enter” sign measures 37.5” tall and is a great resource for schools, parks, and community centers--especially ones undergoing changes or construction. Note: any trike path must be placed outside of the use zone to insure safety of your riders and pedestrians.
