Soar to new heights and climb above average playtime accessories with our Freestanding Airplane Panel. Featuring control panels, a propeller, dual windshields, and a real moving steering wheel, young pilots will possess everything they need to be ready for take-off. The Airplane panel comes in a distinguished hunter green that looks great when paired with other neutral playground accessories, and two peak-a-boo windshields add interest and act as a portal to collaborative play. The panel measures 4' 6" x 1' 6", can entertain eight to twelve children, and is durable enough to withstand years of daily use. Ideal for children ages two to five and older, the Freestanding Airplane Panel will teach kids to reach for the stars. Or, at the very least, the clouds.
