The Santa Maria play structure is an amazing climbing station that is great for any playground. Its versatile design with alternating pathways makes it great for larger and more crowded playgrounds, since it has plenty of different routes for multiple children to use. This way, kids can use their favorite activities for as long as they want, without blocking any of the other children. The structure contains a Single PlayShell, a Stretching Ring, a NaviClimb, an Active Link, a PlayShell Climber, and a Swoop Climb. All of these different activities encourage kids to get some healthy exercise by climbing.
