The North Star is a dependable way to guide children toward fun. This is a great activity for young climbers, as it offers plenty of different ways for them to climb to a safe but exciting height. This includes two tether ladders and an Inclined Wall. But to approach climbing from a new angle, they can try the Twisted Trident. The NaviClimb and Inclined Wall both use exciting plastic shapes for kids to grip onto as they make their way up. This is an ideal structure for smaller play areas, since it does not take up very much space.
