The Pinta is an amazing playground climbing structure which has plenty of great activities that will have children climbing in all directions. There are great activities for maneuvering along the ground, like the Active Link, as well as others for climbing up, like the Inclined wall and the three tethered ladders. The two Suspended Playshells are great for climbing in any direction. The slanted shapes and spires of the Pinta will immediately let kids know that it is built for fun. The structure uses some of the strongest commercially available materials so that every part is built to last.
