Transport the classroom outdoors with the cozy and creative Friendship Table by Big Toys. Preschool-aged children can gather together outdoors and color, fingerpaint, snack, and collaborate on puzzles and their work. The table facilitates creative and imaginative play as well as social development among children at the crucial age when they are making their first efforts to learn and socialize. The cute and functional Friendship Table can seat up to four children, so no one has to be denied a seat at the table with their new friends. The design is particularly durable, with a thought to the rough play young children are sure to engage in and the outdoor weather conditions. In particular, the top is made from 3/4-inch high-density polyethylene, so it can take the punishment of children exploring their play. So, you can expect this table to provide a welcoming space for children at your school or daycare for years to come.
