Children will develop new motor skills and reach new heights with the toddler pull-up bar. Kids transitioning from crawling to walking will be delighted by our secure and fascinating pull-up bar, a useful tool to aid in the practice of important developmental skills, like standing and toddling, all within reach of their caregivers and parents. The bar is constructed of weather-proof materials to withstand the elements and years of everyday use, and it features a heavy-duty wood frame, measuring 4'6" x 0'11". The toddler bar can fit up to two to four children and is ideal for kids ages 6-23 months.
