The Retreat playset is the perfect getaway for kids who want to escape from the stresses of school and everyday life. It has a series of safe stairs that lead up to an observation deck with a height of 78 inches. Up there, they can look around the playground from the balcony, relax under the shade of the pointed roof, or go down the twisted Spiral Slide. The Pushpull located at the base of the structure has two handles, which a pair of kids can hold onto and swing each other back and forth. The Retreat is available with wood or metal structural materials.
