It is not hard to figure out why kids love the Conundrum Playset. It combines climbers, slides, and unique activities into one compact multi-leveled structure. There are a total of seven slides on this structure, including a double slide and a triple slide, where kids can race their friends to the bottom. The large variety of slides means that kids can always find one that is the right size for them, and that they will never have to wait in line for any of them. In the shade beneath the upper decks, there are PlayPad Climbers for kids to traverse.
