The PlayShell Circular Climber is a great addition to any outdoor playground, since it provides a unique activity which is safe and fun for children of all ages. The ring of PlayShells forms a nice inner area where children can hang out and socialize. The PlayShells have different heights to provide some variance and to make them more interesting to climb over and around. There are arched support poles along the tops of the shells to offer children something to hold onto for balance and support as they climb. These arches are strong enough for kids to hang and swing from them without worry. They will delight in trying to maneuver around the ring, weaving in between the arches while trying not to touch the ground. The colorful playshells with their unusual shapes are certain to liven up any play area.
