Step into a world of developmental play with the PlayPod Pedestal. These colorful stepping stones come in graduated heights to help kids develop balance as they hop along a colorful path. PlayPod Pedestals also double as seating areas in quiet spaces or outdoor learning corners, encouraging kids to gather around their instructor and focus on the day's lesson. Or, they can link activities together in a series of vibrant stepping pods. Available in a large collection of colors, including orange, hunter green, navy, and more, the Pedestals have a maximum fall height of six inches, making them a safe option for schools and parks. They're available in a variety of heights to fit your specific playground needs and fit one child per stepping stool. This play accessory is perfect for kids ages five to twelve and will hold up to many years of heavy wear and tear. Leap frog has never been so sophisticated!
