The Elementary System is an awesome collection of separate pieces which can be connected together to form unique structures built entirely from children's imaginations. The set contains 50 bendable Noodle pieces, which can be manipulated in any direction. These are the connector pieces which can be used to link the other elements together. Pieces like the Cog, Bump, and Spider pieces have several slots for attachments, making them versatile hubs for construction. The Spider piece in particular has a perfect shape for functioning as a rooftop. The two arched Wall pieces act as tunnels which children can crawl through, or turned upright to be used as building pieces. A tall Cone piece can be used as a tower, or an interesting accent to any structure. Kids will cooperate and work together to build grander creations than they could on their own.
