The Intermediate System by SnugPlay is a modular play event that lets children design and build structures straight from their imaginations. With this kit, you will have plenty of building materials to accommodate all of your young engineers. This includes both a Blue and a Yellow Cone piece, which have towering spires that are an impressive addition to any creation. Like all of the other pieces in this set, they have round indents which can be used to attach Noodle pieces. The Intermediate set contains 50 of these long, flexible pieces, which serve as the joints and connectors of the play systems. Connecting the pieces is simple, making it easy for kids to get building. The set contains a roof-like Spider piece, 2 Bump pieces, 2 Cog Pieces, and a Pad piece, all of which can be used as hubs for up to six Noodle pieces. There are also Wave pieces and Wall pieces for additional structural elements.
