

Percussion Play Tembos Pentatonic

MSRP $7,480.00

SALE $6,732.00

Highlights:

- 6 separate tubes
- Pentatonic scale ensures that every melody sounds good
- Easy to play by hitting with the paddles
- Unusual shape garners visual interest

Age Group: 2 to 12 years and Adults

Unit Size: Width: 22" Min Playable Height: 24"

Max Playable Height: 32"

These Tembos Pentatonic are a truly unique outdoor instrument that will fascinate children as they explore this new and unfamiliar instrument. The delightful sounds it produces will attract curious onlookers from all around. The Tembos are played by slapping one open end of the tube with a neoprene paddle, which causes a note to emerge from the top of the tube. Musicians can also play by hitting the tube with the palms of their hands, or even with a flip flop. The way that the tubes are played will affect their sounds. There are six individual tubes, which allow musicians to explore an impressive range of different pitches within the C Major Pentatonic scale. Its beautiful appearance and potential for infinitely creative beats, the Tembos Pentatonic are guaranteed to improve any location. It is a great way to get kids who haven't found the right instrument yet to develop a passion for music.