Characterized by its deep tones and bright echo, the Tumbadoras—constructed from stainless steel and hearty, weatherproof materials—provide seasoned and budding drummers with a modern look and rich, vibrant sounds. An update on a classic, kids and adults will flock to this sophisticated set, which delivers weatherproof design in spades. And unlike many traditional outdoor instruments, they can be played all year long, making the Tumbadoras uniquely capable of providing consistent, resonant tunes to any outdoor space. Listeners young and old will be moved to dance, no matter the season! Fun and intuitive to play, each set comes with a pair of drums mounted on a durable stand for a comfortable playing experience. Made to order in four to six weeks, they'll add a spark of magic to your park, school, or museum, and bring the gift of music to happy listeners and dancers.
