This QuaDDDD Play Drum Table is our deluxe model of drum table, containing four separate drum heads. With so many individual drums, this piece can accommodate musical ensembles of any size, from four drummers each playing one of the four to create a harmonious symphony, to a single musician using all four drums to complete their very own masterpiece. Since the drums can be played by striking them with the user's hands, there are no additional pieces that are needed to start creating beats. However, the drums also work very well when played with mallets. The base of the drum is made from high-quality recycled plastic, which is both durable and waterproof. The four legs of the base align nicely with the four drums, and keep the instrument perfectly stable. With the QuaDDDD Play Drum Table, you can encourage many musical talents to blossom.
