No one is ever too young to start experiencing the joys of creative musical expression. These Preschool-Age Tuned Hand Drums are made specifically with the youngest of budding musicians in mind. They are set to an easily reachable height, with the tallest drum being just 29-inches above the ground after installation. The drums can be played intuitively, by striking the heads to produce a brisk melodious sound. Each of the five drums has a differently colored lid, which makes them easily distinguishable, and gives them a friendly and colorful appearance that will welcome and inspire the musicians to play. The drums have different sizes and pitches, and can be played by up to five individuals at once. They can be installed with surface mounts, in-ground mounts, or a portable base, allowing you to easily bring the gift of music anywhere.
