- Add-on options let you lengthen bench

This Modern Standard Style Park Bench Without Back by Webcoat is intended to be a comfortable and robust seating solution for all settings, whether it is placed in a downtown retail center or in a playground space. The gently arched curved design of the bench armrests helps make this outdoor commercial-grade furniture unit attractive enough to seamlessly blend in with contemporary settings. The unit comes in 4 or 6-foot lengths. Additionally, you can purchase an add-on piece to increase the seating capacity of the bench. The add-on then transforms the existing armrest of the primary unit into a natural divider that helps occupants feel like they can each claim their own space to sit. The frame is constructed of tough 2-3/8-inch steel that is finished with powder-coated paint. The seat itself is covered in a layer of textured polyethylene. Please speak to a AAA State of Play salesperson to learn more about what other options are possible. The Modern Standard Style Park Bench without Back can be bought as either a combined portable/surface mounting version or as an in-ground mounting version.
