- Frame and bench coated in a broad choice of color options

If your school or park is in need of additional outdoor seating this Rolled Style Park Bench by Webcoat is a fitting addition to any area. The rolled style of this bench is seen in its curled edges that make for comfortable seating. This bench is straight and does not feature a back, meaning it can be placed in a plethora of areas including walls, buildings, or even next to each other. Whether it is placed in a courtyard or at a bus pick-up area, this bench can be placed anywhere without taking up too much space. This bench is made of #9 expanded metals to create a solid and strong unit. The legs are made from sturdy 2-3/8-inch tubing that provides a robust foundation. Both the frame and bench are then coated with a protective color coating of your choice. The frame is powder-coated while the bench is covered in a textured polyethylene coat.
