Some things are better together and the Adirondack Riviera 2-Seat Chair is a prime example. Foster sociability and communication with this conjoined seating option that is the epitome of relaxation. This is because its 6-slatted contoured back makes it so comfortable for seating two people at once. With the two seats being conjoined it creates a wider area for sitting which eliminates any concerns of being too close. It is held up by a long slat in the back to stabilize the chair. The slats are made of maintenance-free Resinwood, which allows for easy clean up when necessary. The slats are also UV- stabilized meaning the color will not fade over time. This chair can be used in a variety of settings including on the sidelines of a community or residential pool, or on the front or back porch of your house.
