If you're looking for something to quickly capture the attention of energetic children, the Lickety Split Play System is your hope to come alive. Children will be zooming through this structure as they find so many exciting aspects to play with. The Jungle Climber features animals like an elephant and bear molded into the plastic around the strategically placed foot-holes. After climbing up the Jungle Climber they will encounter a Straight Slide on the left and right side of the structure. They will also see a Bubble Panel which distorts their vision into a fish-eye view as they look through it. Further down the platform, they will find a Gear Panel and another Straight Slide that will transport them back to the bottom. On the bottom, they will find the Bench Panel where they can rest their tired feet from running. The Rain Wheel sits diagonally from the Arch Bridge waiting for children to turn it and be greeted by calming sounds. The Lickety Split Play System features more fun activities like Bongos, a Pod Climber, Store Panel and Single Drum, giving children various ways to exert their energy.
