The Metro Fire Truck Dramatic Play Vehicle is a perfect installation to include at the playground of your school or park. This imaginary utility automobile lets kids pretend they're part of the community's vital firefighting department. Children will get value out of pretending they're saving lives, putting out blazes, and speeding off to save kittens from trees. These kinds of dramatic play moments help build youngsters' confidence and lets them think deeper on what their possible future jobs might be. And if you're wanting to give kids the chance to enhance the experience of driving, the framework can be bought with bounce springs for the underside of the vehicle. Alternatively, the Fire Truck is purchasable without springs if you're just wanting a play piece for dramatic play. The truck also features two steering wheels up front, which should minimize the chances kids might battle over who gets to pilot the vehicle.
