The R-Town Taxi is a cute pretend play structure shaped and decorated to resemble a brightly colored cab. It features the classic checkerboard markings that designate an automobile as a hirable transport for busy city dwellers. The gentle curves and clear lettering will attract curious children. These explorations will reward kiddos, as they'll soon discover a way to step up into the open rear of the vehicle. Kids can then hunker down at either of a duo of seat platforms that rest in front of the two steering wheels. Having two helps prevent unnecessary arguments from taking place. An illustration of a speedometer in the dashboard of the cab helps complete the illusion that children are piloting a real car through the streets of a bustling metropolis. The R-Town Taxi works well as a single pretend car in a standard schoolyard or park. Or it can be installed alongside other playhouses and automobiles if you're wanting to create whole backdrops for dramatic play.
