The Zion Bench with Back with Side and Center Armrests is an inviting spot to gather your thoughts and relax on a nice day. Whether a person is needing a bench as a temporary stop to catch up on some laptop work or just wanting a location to recharge while they watch their playing kids, this strong and comfortable seating will solve the problem. Armrests on the sides and in the center of the bench amplify leisure while still helping people feel like they have control of their own spacing. This seat can handle use by most individuals, regardless of their body type, as the 6-foot long bench is supported by sturdy legs and the whole unit is made of welded steel. The unit can be purchased in the color shown or you can customize the tones to match your specific design needs. A wide variety of alternate colors are available and the powder coat finishing process ensures a long-lasting paint job. A unique portable and surface mount combination is used to keep it transportable while giving you the option of affixing it to a certain location.
