Webcoat's Biscayne Bench with Back is a splendid solution for providing passersby with a spot to temporarily sit and relax. Whether you are wanting to improve the lunch breaks of the employees at an office park or beautify the grounds of a college campus, this handsome bench will fit the bill. The pleasing arrangement of shapes on the back of the bench gives the unit a modern flair and its strong stainless steel welding ensures years of usage by occupants large and small. The durable powder coat finish will keep the color of the bench dazzling and bright against even the harshest weather. The Biscayne Bench with Back is available in either the hue shown here or you can customize the colors to one of several alternate options. Please contact a AAA State of Play salesperson to learn more about currently available colors and lead times. This bench is available in 4, 6, or 8-foot lengths to meet your seating demands. A 2-for-1 portable/surface mount allows you to keep it mobile or position it in place.
