The Biscayne Bench without Back by Webcoat is an excellent seating installation if you are looking to improve areas that see lots of people regularly walking through. Everyone benefits from having access to temporary locations to sit and relax for a moment. Benches like this unit improve the mood of your visitors or employees and encourage them to return. The bench features pleasing geometric shaped decorations on both sides of its two comforting armrests. The tough framework is composed of fully welded steel that can withstand years of use by occupants of all shapes and sizes. The bench is purchasable in 4, 6, or 8-foot long versions and features a combination portable/surface mount. This allows you to keep it mobile or bolt it down to one secure location. The powder coat paint applied is capable of staying shiny against harsh rain and sun. If you do not care for the color shown here, other hues are available in a variety of other options. Please contact a AAA State of Play sale representative to learn more about currently available colors and lead times.
