

Uptown - Bryce Steel Slatted Bench without Back with Side Armrests

MSRP $1,493.00

SALE $1,270.00

Highlights:

- Finished with resilient powder coated paint
- Features two curved and comfy armrests
- Attractive horizontal planking adds contemporary beauty
- Reinforced steel construction makes unit durable

The Bryce Steel Bench without Back with Side Armrests is a smartly designed seating solution for buyers looking to combine strong functionality with contemporary form. The bench is built of steel legs, planking, and framework, which combines to make for a tough furniture unit capable of withstanding use by a variety of occupants, regardless of their shape or size. This commercial-grade bench would look fantastic indoors or out and its modern shape allows placement in hotel lobbies, commercial corridors, college campuses, or restaurant waiting areas. You have the freedom to place the bench anywhere as the seat's backless design permits access from both sides. Choose from 4, 6, or 8-foot lengths. And if you are not a fan of the color shown here, just reach out to a AAA State of Play sales representative to discuss custom color options and scheduling. The Bryce Steel Bench without Back with Side Armrests features a hybrid portable/surface mount combination that grants you the ability to move it around your venue or securely affix it in place (mounting hardware not included).