Webcoat's Gateway Horizontal Planking Steel Slatted Bench with Back is an attractively fashioned seat with steel slats. The bench is solidly built and suitable for any number of commercial locations, from corporate lobbies and park plazas to zoos and college grounds. The spacing on the horizontal slats is judiciously arranged to enable comforting airflow through the seat. This feature also accelerates drying after rainfall. The bench can be bought in 4-foot or 6-foot lengths and features a mixed portable/surface mount for added versatility. Cast aluminum legs create a lightweight and durable base that adds to its mobility. The color of the bench is available in the tone shown here or you can customize the colors to better match your own space's design needs. A powder-coated paint is applied to help keep the bench looking good even after regular exposure to the harsh rays of the sun or powerful wind and rain. Please contact a sales representative from AAA State of Play to discuss currently available color options and learn about scheduling.
