Highlights:

- Pick from a mix of hues to customize the unit
- 4-inch frame provides a strong and stout base
- Arched seat creates comfortable seating
- 6-foot table and benches grant ample room for socialization

Eat, talk, or just sit and relax with friends and family on the Arches Steel Slatted Pedestal Table. This 6-foot long table provides plenty of room for people to write, read, or eat either together or comfortably spaced apart. Built with mobility in mind, the arched seats allow people to move their legs back and forth. Additionally, a seat without a back allows people to turn and straddle to socialize with others and do activities such as talking or playing a game. The table and seats are made from steel to create a strong and long-lasting structure that patrons can seat themselves upon comfortably and safely. Two 4-inch steel tubes at the bottom of each piece of the unit provide a sturdy foundation, allowing a large group of people to sit down and converse. The steel is powder-coated, granting you the option to tone the unit to match your proposed area. Just talk to a sales representative for more information on colors.
