

6 foot long Smiles Buddy Bench with Perforated Steel with Back

MSRP $1,130.00

SALE $961.00

Highlights:

- Powder coating shields the metal frame from the elements
- Charming smiley faces etched into front promote socialization
- Textured polyethylene coat protects the seat and back from scratches
- Perforated bench enables airflow to keep guests cool

The 6-foot Long Smiles Buddy Bench with Perforated Steel with Back by Webcoat is designed to not only be a seating solution for passersby, but to specifically appeal to youngsters looking for a spot to temporarily escape from the hectic activity that can sometimes fill a playground, schoolyard, zoo, or mall. Kids benefit from having spaces that they can call their own and the classic appeal of this seat's etched smiley faces is meant to mark this bench as such a place. Youngsters can relax on this commercial-grade seat to their hearts' content, all the while being cooled by the comforting airflow that the bench's perforations allow. This design element also speeds up the unit's drying process after a rainy day. This unit is purchasable as a portable item or with surface or in-ground mounting hardware to secure it in place. The metal bench features a powder-coated frame and textured polyethylene seat and back that can be customized to fit your organization's color scheme. Please call or email a AAA State of Play sales representative to learn more about color selection and scheduling opportunities.