The Bones Design 6-foot UltraLeisure Expanded Style Bench with Back by Webcoat is composed of strong and clean lines that helps make for a modern appearance that will appeal to urban locations with contemporary sensibilities. The interwoven expanded metal grating along the back and seat surface is carefully spaced to allow for air to flow through the unit and help accelerate drying after rains. The back of the bench features some charmingly quirky decoration in the form of a duo of bone-shaped etches. The powder-coated paint finishing of the frame and the textured polyethylene on the seat makes for resilient layering that will stand up to years of exposure to the sun, wind, and rain. The colors of both materials can be customized if what you see here is not to your liking. Please contact AAA State of Play to learn more details. This 6-foot long bench is available as a portable, surface or in-ground mounting unit.
