- Anti-rotation, non-squirter bubbler reduces messes

After a long day of running around with their buddies most dogs would enjoy a sip of water to cool them down. The Pet Dog Park Drinking Fountain offers a convenient way for animals to gulp down some water before going back to playing. This fountain is ideal for any dog park or community area that sees a lot of furry visitors. The fountain is low to the ground, allowing easy accessibility for dehydrated pups. Owners simply push the button on the larger pole to make the water flow out. This item comes in a green powder coating that will match the natural landscape that it will appear in. Its color is paired with the stainless steel dish that the water will flow into, making it a tasteful addition to the outdoor area. The Pet Dog Park Drinking Fountain also includes an anti-rotation, non-squirter bubbler which adds ease to the experience by eliminating messy situations.
