The Dog Park Bones Design 6-foot Classic Wingline Style Bench with Back is a handy seat that uses a contemporary design of gentle curves that also help make the seat more comfortable. The spacing of the slatted steel is judiciously arranged to facilitate airflow, which dramatically speeds up the drying process so the bench is more quickly usable after a rain. The hearty steel can also hold up under years of use by individuals of all shapes and sizes. The contoured back of the seat combines with the two armrests to make for an inviting seat that will maximize users' ability to relax. With its cute duo of bone-shaped decorations cut out of the bench's back, this commercial-grade unit would match especially well with zoos, dog parks, or anywhere animals gather. The Dog Park Bones Design 6-foot Classic Wingline Style Bench with Back is available as a portable, surface or in-ground mounting unit.
