Highlights:

- Quick and easy cleanup
- In-ground mount keeps the platform stable
- An accessible place for dogs to take a break
- Slightly elevated platform that canine friends can easily climb

After a long day of play, furry friends will be exhausted from running, jumping, and rolling around. The Let's Rest Recycled Plastic Dog Park Play Equipment is an elevated platform that allows dogs to relax their tired tails. Instead of laying on the ground or grass and getting their hair and coat dirty with debris, they can climb onto this platform and lie down. This structure can be placed in the sun, letting dogs' coats get some much-needed warmth on a windy day. Alternatively, you can place it under the cooling shade of some trees to make canine break time even more refreshing for areas that experience frequent periods of sweltering heat. The posts of this durable item are made of 100% recycled plastic and the roto-molded plastic elements feature anti-static technology. The plastic material of this product makes it easy to clean off dirt, grime, and pet hair. The Let's Rest Recycled Plastic Dog Park Play Equipment uses an in-ground mount, so you won't have to worry about any pooch moving the platform as they jump on or hop off.
