The Horizontal Strap Style Trash Receptacle by Webcoat helps keep your location litter-free with a unique and striking appearance. This commercial-grade receptacle uses modern lines and clean design that helps it to fit in with any number of interior or exterior spaces. The hearty steel construction of the frame is designed to look like a stack of simple yet attractive horizontally gapped slats. The unit can accommodate a 32-gallon liner (liner and lid not included), which is spacious enough to handle a lot of waste before requiring maintenance. The metal is finished with a textured polyethylene coating that is resistant to the damaging effects of weather that can more easily dim the luster of inferior coloring applications. And if you do not care for the hue of the waste bin shown here, just contact a AAA State of Play sales representative to discuss alternatives. The Horizontal Strap Style Trash Receptacle is purchasable as a portable unit. Surface or in-ground mounting hardware is available for purchase (sold separately) to keep it in place.
