Play Mart's Wolf Recycled Playground packs a lot of interesting activities into a medium-sized footprint, from mentally stimulating imagination stations to rigorous physical obstacles. Kids will be sure to become excited upon seeing this playscape up close, particularly when they spy the installed photo panels depicting majestic wolves in natural landscapes. Youngsters wanting to scramble up vertical surfaces can engage in surfaces like the Dual Rock Wall Climber with its multitude of easily graspable handholds. Inspired by the visuals they saw elsewhere on the structure, other youth will enjoy pretending to be wolves dashing through a Straight Tunnel before zipping down a huge Wave Slide and howling all the while. Those who are wanting a more relaxing spot to ponder can chill out on the Kids Bench for a moment or act out piloting an automobile at the ADA Driving Panel. Play Mart's Wolf Recycled Playground heavily incorporates recycled plastic components in its build. The posts, steps, decks, and railings are made of this eco-conscious material and are also graffiti resistant and low maintenance.
