Play Mart's Cardinal Recycled Playsystem is a wonderful commercial-grade structure that will be sure to delight all kinds of kids, from those looking for mental stimulation to youngsters wanting to run, climb, and slide. Three of the four elevated hexagonal decks of this unit are ADA accessible thanks to the gently sloped ramps that wheelchair users can ride up and along. These ramps permit those of all ability levels the chance to interact directly together and share in the excitement of exploring this neat framework as a team. The elevated platforms have interactive features like musical instruments, turntable gears, and pushable levers. Those that are ground side can either make their way up on the ramp too or meet their friends by way of scalable Rope Ladder or easily gripped wall climbers. A cool rope tunnel connects the final hex to the other three, but rest assured there are sliding opportunities available on either end of this see-through portal. The Cardinal Recycled Playsystem by Play Mart makes heavy use of recycled plastic material in elements like the steps and posts so you can feel confident you are investing in a structure that is more ecologically friendly.
