Play Mart's new Leaf Hoppers (Set of 6) are an eye-catching way to draw children into some healthy exercise as they enjoy the balance challenge of staying upright along an elevated path. Sold as a set of six units, these Leaf Hoppers let you set the challenge level for future engagement by kids. Upon installation, you can determine both the horizontal distance between platforms as well as each platform's vertical distance from the ground (anywhere between 6-inches and 2.5-feet high). Youth will be able to maintain their balance through each Leaf Hopper's smartly arranged series of hand grips. These handholds are easily graspable and subtly built into the upper sections of the flower petal design. As they leap, hop, or carefully step from each leaf-shaped deck to the next, kids will be improving their posture, enhancing their spatial reasoning and kinesthetic abilities, and building up their arm, torso, and leg strength.
