Starting a band just got easier with the Rhythm Group of Three. Composed of the Metallophone, Glockenspiel and Bongos, this set combines the symbiotic sounds of popular classic instruments for a playground concert. Grab a mallet and a friend and strike any of the fifteen different keys on the Metallophone. Accompany those delightful chimes with the ring of a solo on the Glockenspiel. And finally, someone can pound out a unique rhythm on the two differently pitched Bongo drums. Musical play promotes camaraderie and togetherness and refines motor skills in children of all ages while they compose creative tunes and perfect their pitch. Mounting options and durable materials make this package suitable for indoor and outdoor use. Purchase this convenient package to round out an existing recreation area or begin the ultimate outdoor orchestra where all future rockstars will come to rehearse. The Rhythm Group comes in two color schemes, primary and neutral, allowing it to blend seamlessly with other existing instruments or playground equipment.
