Challenge school-age children with the Freestanding Curved Post Chain Climbing Wall. Designed with durability in mind, this climber is built with commercial-grade materials and made to withstand frequent use and harsh climates. Four curved posts provide a sturdy base that can accommodate multiple children climbing at once. A steel chain climbing net offers a rigid frame to make it easier for kids to traverse the unit. The versatile rungs provide a firm handle for kids to grab onto and enhance stability as they rest their feet on top of them. The hardy climber offers an excellent recreational activity for kids that combines play with beneficial exercise. As they climb, children will work on their coordination, balance, and strength. Choose from a wide range of colors to customize the unit to your location. Contact a AAA State of Play salesperson for more details.
